Alexandria High School

Alexandria, Indiana

“Young Alexandria

Every day at Alexandria High School proved to be very different and extremely exciting.

When the doors were opened for the new school year, there was an air of excitement in every corridor and classroom. Meeting new acquaintances and reviving old friendships were first on the agenda for the new year. Then serious plans for a successful academic year were made.

Soon things settled down and the A. H. S.'ers were acquiring important knowledge which would help them lead better lives in their schools, homes, and communities.

Academic life was only one of the important phases of our life at Alex High. There were sports, social activities, and extra-curricular activities which rounded out our well-balanced school program.

Goes to School"

Mr. DON DICK

We Dedicate . . .

The Class of 1959 is proud to dedicate this yearbook to an outstanding educator.

During his years at Alexandria High School, he has gained the admiration and respect of the entire student body. In all matters he is firm, yet fair, and his professional approach to teaching has inspired his classes. It is through the efforts of teachers like this man that the American school system has remained at a traditionally high level.

It is with great pleasure that we dedicate this book to Mr. Dick.

Social Science

These U. S. History students in Mr. Dick's class find the story of their country's background a thrilling one.

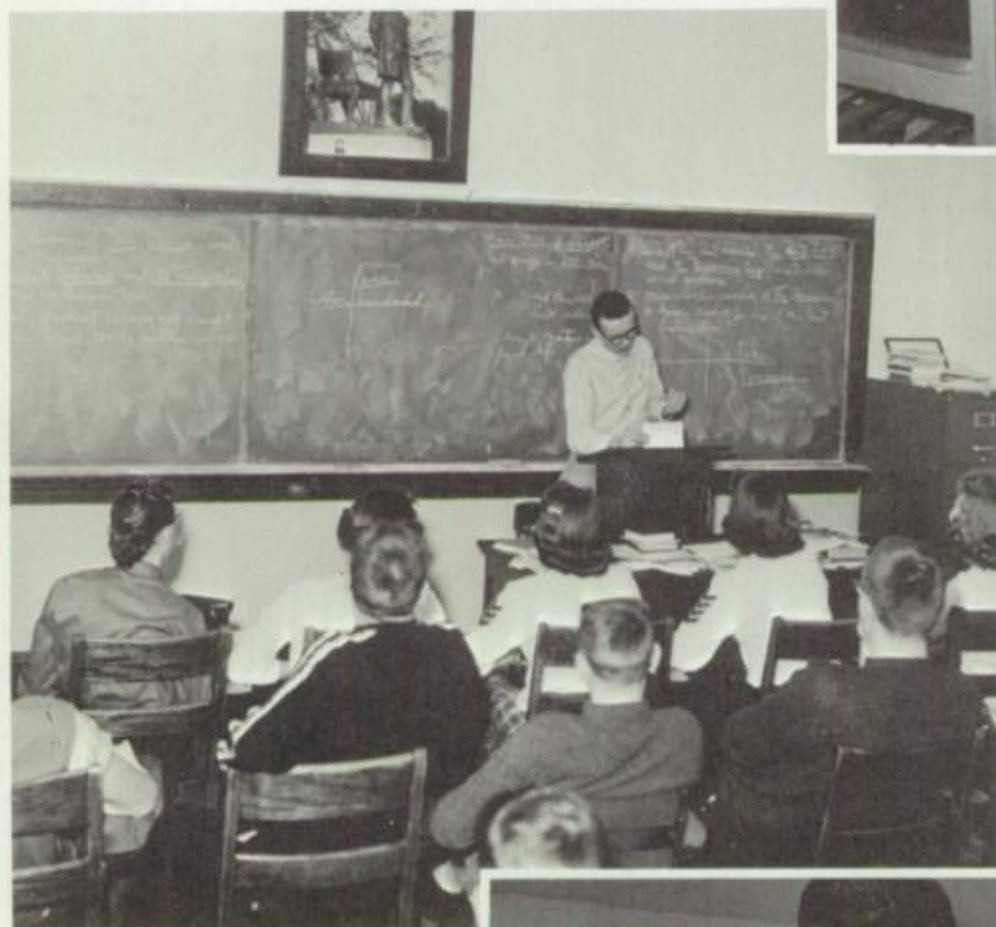

Miss French and a most graceful volunteer, Dave Welcome, perform an experiment in balancing for Psychology class.

Miss Hull looks over some projects for World History with Sue Disque and Tom Leach. Students are responsible for several projects portraying customs or special events of a historical period.

English

Extending a helping hand to a sightless boy in Scotland, these Eighth graders are taping stories to send him.

To speak easily and confidently to an audience, as John Bragg is doing, is part of the training received in a Speech class.

These Journalism students are laboring over what news to put where in an issue of the school paper, "Tiger's Tale."

LEFT TO RIGHT: Kay Antle, Dave Welcome, Nancy Baumgartner, Mrs. Laws, Sue Weaver, Tom Walker.

Physical Education

No, it's not Valentine's Day. Mr. Wehsollek is showing his Health class a model of the human heart and its various parts.

These girls are enjoying an active and wholesome game of basketball. They can really pile up the points, too.

You can never be too sure. Drivers' Training students examine the interior of the training car as they embark on a trial run.

Guidance and Library

Deedie Baumgartner and Rose Ann Mack are trying to establish order on the library shelves, under the able supervision of the librarian, Mrs. Loy.

Miss French, Guidance Director, and Mrs. Loy, Librarian, discuss a school problem.

Miss French is discussing the teaching profession with her student assistant, Ella Jane Millspaugh. She is showing her some new material which might help Ella Jane in her future vocation.

Home Economics

Nancy Haines and Doris Heartbarger should be proud of the delicious looking pie they are taking out of an oven in the Home Economics department.

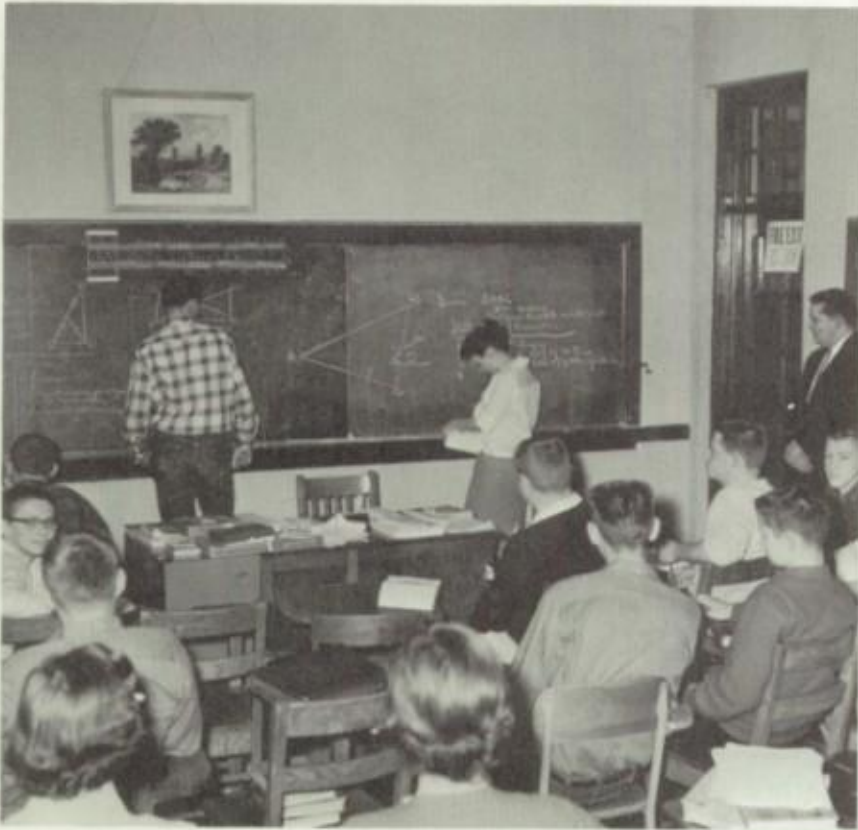

Mrs. Andrew thinks the gingerbread looks good, too.

Child care is an important part in every homemaker's training. Mrs. Millican makes an assignment to her class.

Mathematics

A geometry class watches with approval as Deedie Baumgartner proves a geometry problem at the board.

Students of a Junior High math class are reviewing fundamentals and learning new material from Mr. Moore.

This is Mr. Shock's answer to "Line Up." It is really his Advanced Algebra class.

Music

Mr. Crosley's Eighth Grade music class enjoys a tape recording.

"One and two and three and." Mr. Bowers directs the Senior High Band.

The alto section of the choir rehearses for the Winter Concert.

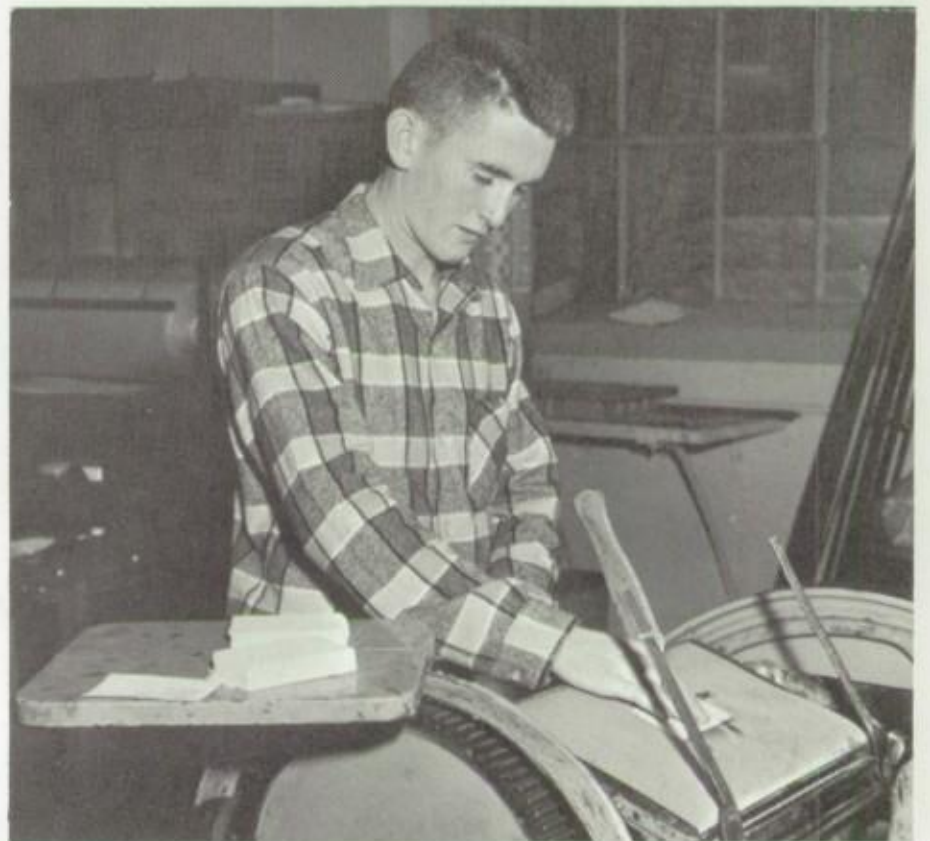

Industrial Arts

These boys are busy at work in the machine shop. The excellent training they receive and the fine quality of work they do reflect the mark of a CHAMPION.

Jim Sayre is operating the printing press, turning out some of the numerous printed items always needed at Alexandria High School.

The absence of any bandaged fingers proves the skill these eighth graders have developed in the metal shop.

Science

Tonya Lockwood, Steve Gaunt, Nancy Walker, and Dickie Trissel, members of the eighth grade General Science class, are engrossed in the study of the human ear.

Mr. Baxter is demonstrating electrolysis of water to one of his chemistry classes.

Biology students--Jeanne Fraundorfer, Cathy Hyson, Kenneth Cleaver, and Harold Wilson--are discussing mysteries of the chest cavity while Mr. Frazier supervises.

Agriculture

This class seems to be enjoying Tim Meyer's dissertation on corn. In fact they seem to be "all ears."

Mr. Disque and a rooster are giving each other a close inspection much to the amusement of the poultry judging group.

The land judging class is proudly eyeing their latest trophy, only one of many accumulated in the past few years.

Speech & Hearing — Art

Mrs. Clendenin tests the hearing of one of the Junior High Students.

Mr. Bullock looks over the work of his art students, Helen Pittenger and Tom Hartwell.

Business

Mr. Green holds the attention of his Business Law class as he reads an interesting case from the text.

Richard Woosnam and Ed Janney are learning book-keeping fundamentals which will assist them in keeping future home budgets and business records.

After the excellent training available in our business department, a student suddenly discovers that typing can be done neatly and quickly, as evidenced here by Louis Harrison.

Groundwork in Government

To be a part of a model Indiana General Assembly was a wonderful experience for these students who were selected to represent Alexandria High School at the Purdue Student Legislative Assembly in December. Both in the House and the Senate, they followed the process of lawmaking from the preparation of bills to the final vote.

LEFT TO RIGHT: John Prough, Nancy Baumgartner, Ed Janney, Jane Millspaugh, Mr. Green.

These students were chosen as representatives to Girls' State and Boys' State held each summer at Indiana University under the auspices of the American Legion Auxiliary and the American Legion, respectively. From a week packed with practical political experience, they will be prepared to participate more intelligently in elections when they reach voting age.

A Variety of Programs Add Spice

Harmony was the keynote when this talented group won the approval of the audience at the Pop Concert.

The audience was really interested as David Bailey and the Debate Team gave a practice debate before the tournament at Ball State Teachers College.

It was a grand night for singing, and Anita Muller performed in her inimitable way.

Hoosier Hysteria in the Making

"Now boys, the idea of this game is to . . ."

Man, what a real gone pep session this turned out to be.
A real pepper-upper!

From the happy faces in the cheering section, it looks as if the Tigers are on the move.

The Party Mood

The Homecoming Dance is an annual social highlight. This year's theme was "Club '59."

More dancers respond to the slow, dreamy music than the rock-n-roll beat.

Prevails

David Bailey and Nancy Baumgartner, representing the Debate Club, reign as King and Queen of the Sweetheart Ball. They are shown with their court, who are representatives from the other school organizations.

The Sweetheart Ball was sponsored by the Junior Red Cross and proved to be quite a success.

People

Alexandria High School is a friendly place. Faculty members, students, parents, and the whole community share in its many activities. There is a spirit of "togetherness" surrounding this building where Young Alexandria goes to school.

The Alexandria Board of Education meeting in a regular session. LEFT TO RIGHT are: Everett Gaunt, Treasurer; Clifford Sheley, Secretary; A. H Baumgartner, President; and Kelro Whiteman, Superintendent of Schools. STANDING is Joseph Urban, City Attorney.

Mr. Evans looks over his reference library in his office.

Mr. Disque working in his Junior High School office.

Our Long Awaited Senior Year Began

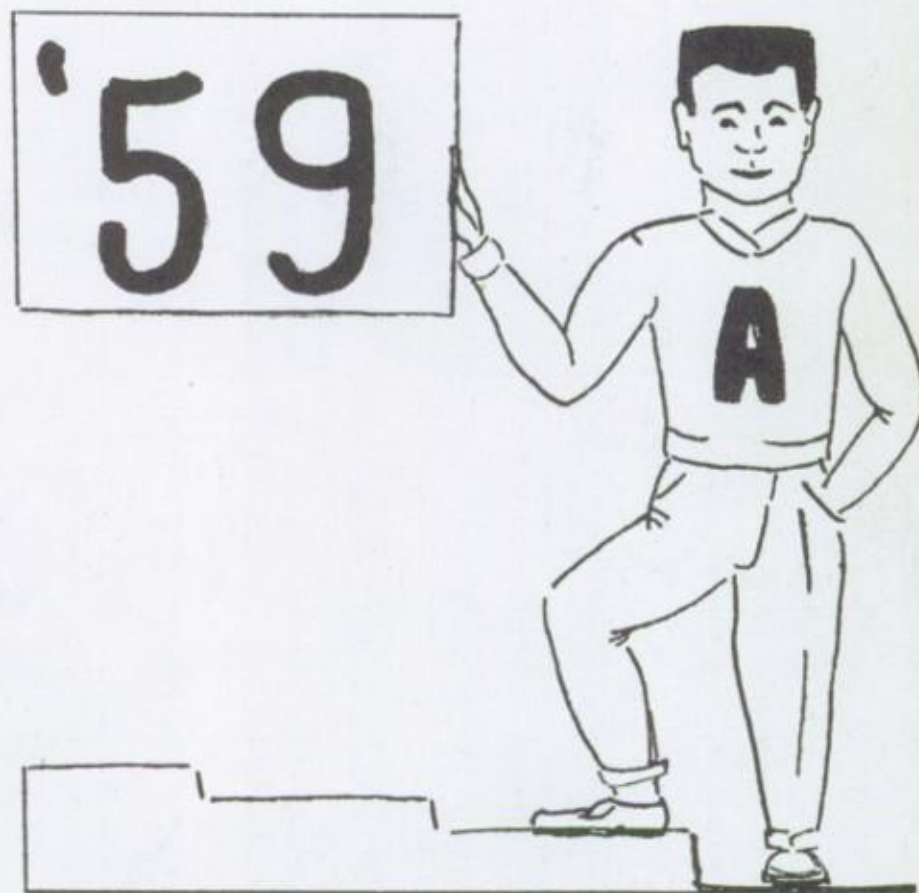

Leaders during our senior year were: Anita Muller, Secretary; Mrs. Andrew, Mr. Wehsollek, Miss French, Dave Steele, President; Jim Owens, Treasurer; and Dave Bailey, Vice President.

Our first big event was the Homecoming celebration with a football game on Friday night, October 3, and the "Club '59" dance on Saturday evening. Linda Swindell was crowned queen and with her escort, Tom Willis, reigned over the dance.

It mattered not that the temperature was below zero, the atmosphere was warm with exercise, fun, and good fellowship at our Christmas party.

The concessions were real work but helped us earn our trip to Washington. Four days filled with fun on the train and the always to be remembered sights in our country's greatest city will be meaningful to us always.

Just one other event, Commencement, and the year was gone. The diplomas meant our school life together ended but newer and greater vistas were opened to us.

In Memoriam

As we remember our class activities and the enjoyment we shared as a group, we are sobered by the realization that two of our classmates' lives were taken by tragic accidents.

Kip Brandon, April 25, 1957

Ellis Cunningham, October 26, 1958

The loss of these two young men has brought grief to their families and sadness to their classmates.

Junior Activities Add Funds to Treasury

Making plans for a Sock Hop are Richard Woosnam, Ed Janney, Mrs. Laws, Mr. Green, Pam Stone, Mrs. Loy, and Phil Hahn.

Edwin Janney was re-elected Junior Class President. The other officers were: Phil Hahn, Vice President; Pam Stone, Secretary; and Richard Woosnam, Treasurer.

Co-op representatives were Steve King, Bill Blake, Sylvia Gall, and Sandy Latchaw.

Mrs. Loy, Mrs. Laws, and Mr. Green served as class sponsors.

For the first time, the Juniors selected their ring style in the Spring of their Sophomore year and received the rings in September of their Junior year.

Sock Hops and selling Christmas trees were their projects for adding money to the class treasury.

Organizations

An important part of Alexandria High School is the "organizations." The clubs are often connected with various school departments, and every student can find a club that is particularly interesting to him. Participating in organizations is helpful to students in learning correct parliamentary procedure, in being responsible for program planning, and in sharing the good fellowship of schoolmates.

'Wholesome Attitudes' Is Theme of This Group

The Hi-Y Club, under the leadership of its officers, has a busy and successful year. Several projects were undertaken as the Hi-Y began the year by putting up and taking down the football bleachers. Their next big project was a Clean Speech Campaign. Caroling at Christmas with the Y-Teens and providing a basket for a needy family were highlights during the winter months.

Officers of the club included: Dave Welcome, President, Steve Fulk, Vice President, Bill Disque, Secretary; Bob Janney, Treasurer; and Bill Blake, Sergeant-at-Arms. Mr. Shock was sponsor.

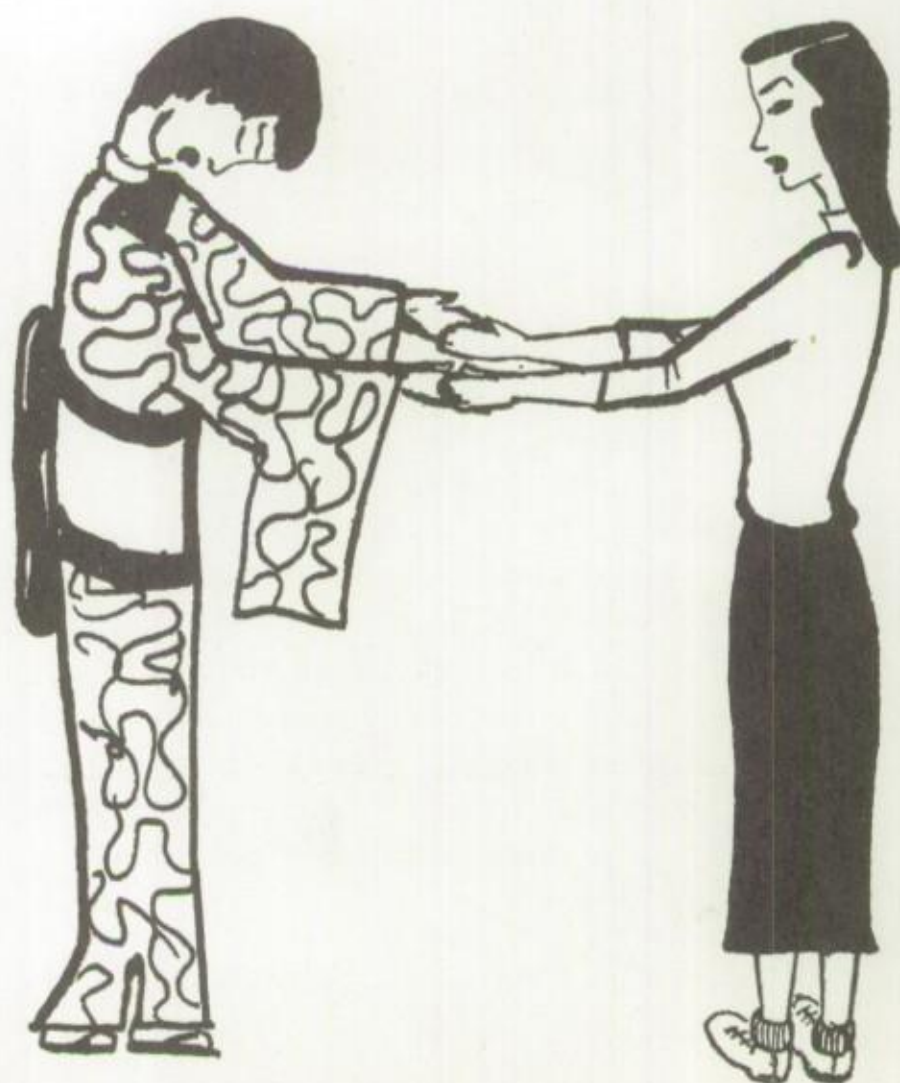

Young Women Growing Graciously

"To build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life, those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians" is the purpose of the Y-Teens.

This year the Y-Teens chose as their projects: collecting money for polio and heart funds, collecting food for a deserving family at Christmas, being in charge of the coat check room at home basketball games, and decorating the high school Christmas tree. Many officers and members attended a Spring Conference. Several parties were held during the year, one of which was a joint caroling party with the Hi-Y at Christmas time.

Officers this year were: Helen Pittenger, President; Carole Taylor, Vice President; Deedie Baumgartner, Treasurer; Wanda Payton, Secretary; and Council Members, Nancy Baumgartner, Chairman; Gay Willis, Georgianne Urban, Nancy Partington, and Dianne Moore.

The band was an outstanding example of versatility. Under the capable leadership of Mr. Bowers, they were equally proficient in marches, classical or "Pop" music.

They performed at several concerts during the school year and participated in Crescendo Varities. They also won honors in state band contests. This year, in addition to the many hours of practice, they took on an additional chore of earning money for new uniforms.

Seniors receiving jackets and sweaters for four years in band were: Virginia Pirtle, Linda Jackson, Sharon Hayes, Karen Beard, Dave Bailey, Jerry Hines, Dave Steele, Steve Fulk, Dave Welcome, Ron Lynch, and Warren LeVeque.

Another school year has drawn to a close. The resounding voices, the clatter of feet, and the general noisiness of Young Alexandria are still until next term.

Our year was a busy, well rounded one, full of learning, activities, and fellowship. We are grateful for the kind of education we received at Alexandria High School. The curriculum, the interest of the faculty in our problems, and the extra curricular activities gave us advantages that will benefit us all through our lives.

As each graduating class says good-bye to Alexandria High School, there is always a new, larger class to step into the breach. And each Fall business continues as usual when "Young Alexandria Goes to School."

Terrific Tigers Take Tourney

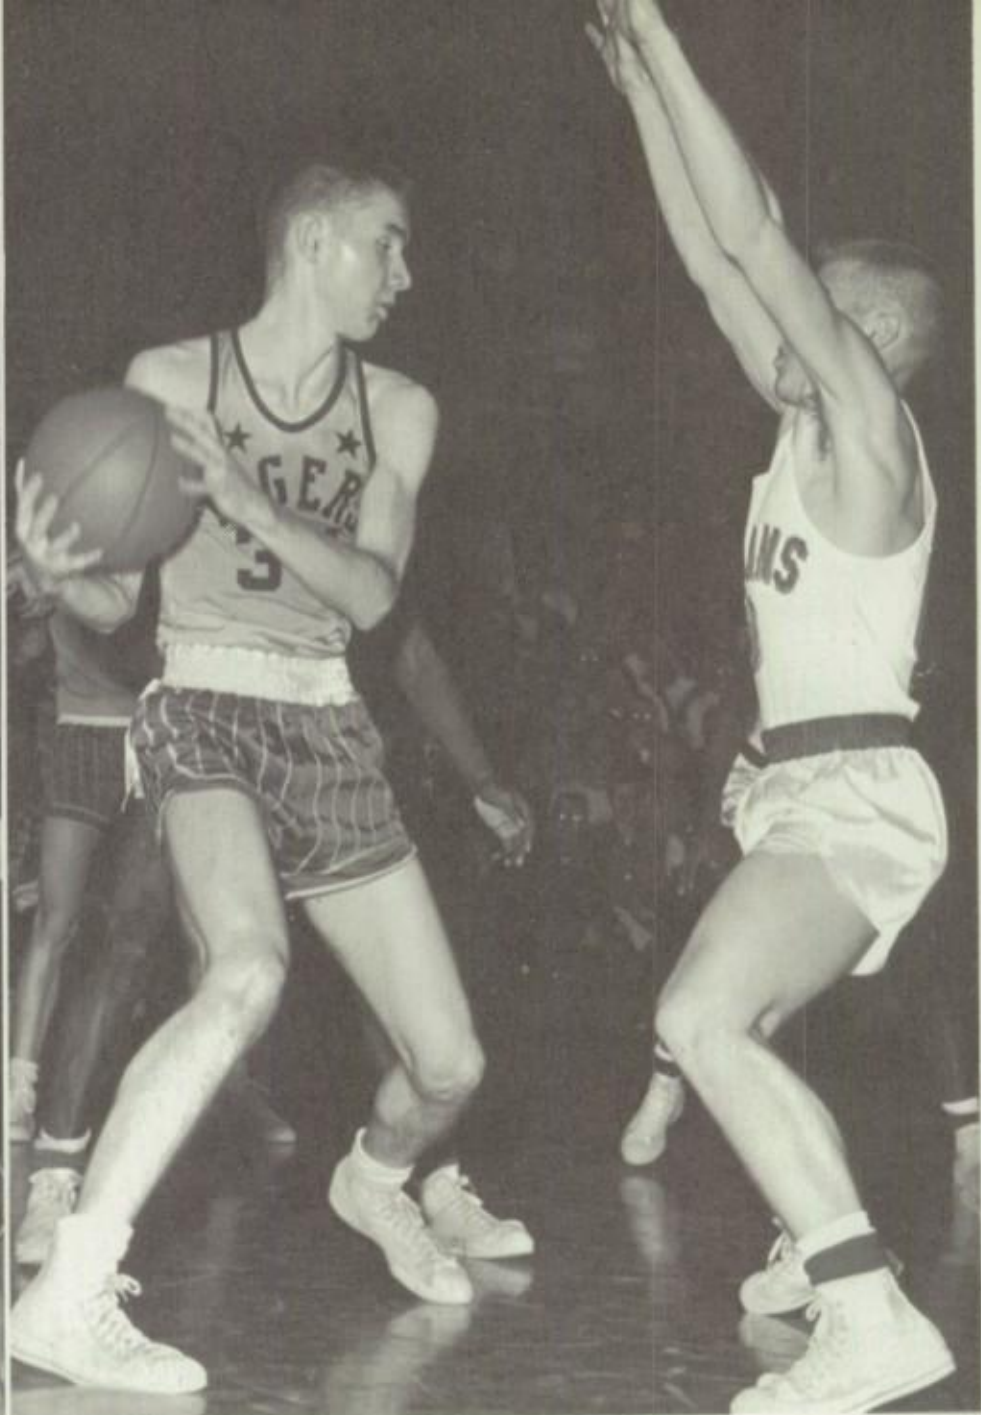

"Heap Big Smoke" As Tigers Catch Fire.

The cheering section went wild as the Alexandria Tigers moved steadily ahead of the Anderson Indians in the final game of the Sectional. With superb poise and superior team work, the Tigers completely dominated the Indians and won 47 to 38.

Upsey-daisy, and he got it.

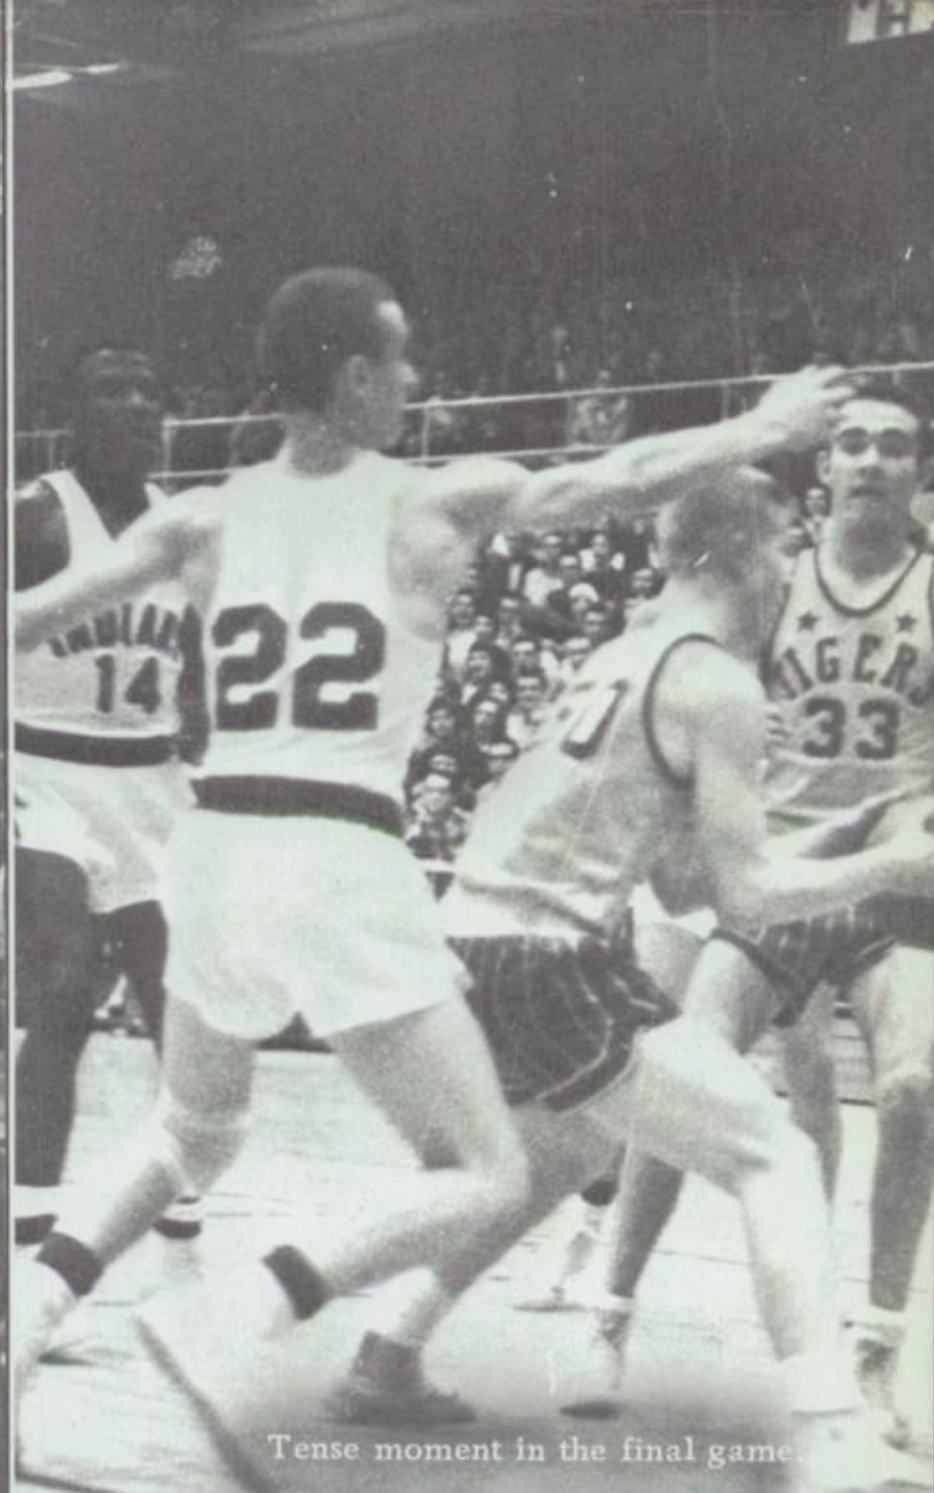

No you don't, old Buddy!

Willis eludes defenders.

Another defensive rebound by the Tigers.

Tense moment in the final game.

Alexandria opened its Sectional play against the Markleville Arabians and defeated them 60 to 50.

St. Mary's was the next victim for the rugged Tigers. Alexandria's superior hitting made it impossible for the Gaels to gain a lead. The Gaels went down in defeat 65 to 40.

The fighting Irish of Pendleton put up a stiff battle against the mighty Tigers, but as the gun sounded, the Tigers had won again, 44 to 40.

After defeating Pendleton in the afternoon game, Alex rolled on to defeat the highly rated Anderson Indians 47 to 38. Although the sportswriters declared it an upset victory, it was no upset to the proud Tiger fans.

The following Saturday, March 7, our Tigers traveled to Indianapolis to play Crispus Attucks in the Regional. They made a fine showing against the very tall and skillful players and were defeated by only 7 points, 60 to 53.

Four boys--Tom Willis, Steve Fulk, Gary Foster, and Ron Garner--were selected for the ALL REGIONAL teams. Tom Willis was chosen by all sportswriters for the FIRST ALL REGIONAL TEAM.

Oh, please-----!

GM'S FIREBIRD III LEADS THE WAY, STARTING WITH DELCO-REMY

Now inquiring minds have turned space-age tools—electronics, transistors, computers—to ground-level motoring. From tapering mouth to towering dorsal fin, the experimental Firebird III is imagination in motion, bristling with new ideas from many General Motors divisions.

The vital “heart”—the electrical system—of this new concept in transportation for the future was designed and built by Delco-Remy engineers. From the compact, transistorized voltage regulator to the 110-volt auxiliary a.c. generator—powerful enough to operate home power systems in emergencies, or run appliances on camping trips—Delco-Remy's contributions to Firebird III engineering point out the shape of things to come in the automotive electrical equipment industry.

Experimental? Yes. Exceptional? No—for working to develop improvements in the field of automotive electrical systems is a permanent task here. Rather than wait for the future, we like to step forward and meet it.
